Top Pottstown School District retirees

As of 2018, the Pottstown School District has 402 former employees receiving pensions.

There are more than four retirees for every five employees still working.

Pennsylvania's Public School Employees' Retirement System covers all full-time school district employees, including clerks, aides, and maintenance workers.

Retirees receive a guaranteed pension for life. They have the option of covering their spouse as well, so the pension may continue even after the retiree dies.

those payments back — plus interest — when they retire, in addition to their pension.

Retirees also receive a $1,200 annual subsidy for their health insurance, and the retirement system offers numerous attractive group health insurance plans to its members.

The following is a list of the top 50 of Pottstown's 402 retirees.

Most current employees can qualify for full retirement at age 60 with 30 years of service, or younger with 35 years' service, or they can take early retirement at 55 with reduced benefits.

Some pensioners retired in the early 1980s — some have collected pensions for more years than they actually worked.
